Celebrating Independence Day

Independence Day is also called the Fourth of July. Independence Day marks the historic date in 1776 when the Declaration of Independence was approved by the Continental Congress. The written declaration stated that the American colonies were tired of being ruled by Great Britain. Many families and friends celebrate the Fourth of July with parties, gatherings, barbecues and fireworks to end the night. Ice cream is usually a featured favorite. Be sure to check out our activities on the Fourth and wear your Red, White and Blues!

Exploring Space

Since the space program began, the U.S. has launched hundreds of spacecraft, ranging from satellites circling the Earth to probes surveying the other planets. Your mission: Explore some of these machines and their journeys into space.

Year	Spacecraft	Mission
